CAPS BANKING ON ZACHARY TODAY SENATORS WILL FIGHT HARD TO TIE THE COUNT

Nehf Will Probably Oppose Zachary On Mound With Barnes Second Choice of McGraw—Victory Today Will Give Giants Fourth Straight World Series Crown.

(By The Associated Press)
GRIFFITH STADIUM WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The Washington Senators, now facing heavy odds in their valiant fight for their first baseball championship, came back home today for the sixth battle of the 1924 world's series.

Despite two defeats in their three games at New York, the damage lost by Roger Peckinpaugh, star shortstop, and the heart-breaking setback yesterday for their twirling ace, Walter Johnson, the Senators are still in a fighting mood.

Victory today for the Giants, who hold a three to two edge, will clinch McGraw's fourth diamond crown but a comeback by Washington will force the issue to the limit in seven games in a final struggle here tomorrow.

Bucky Harris, the fighting manager of the Senators, is banking upon Zachary and his slow southpaw curves to stop the Giants this afternoon. Although the National Leaguers drove him from the box in the ninth inning of the second game, he pitched strongly for the most part.

"We are far from discouraged," declared Harris as he led his squad on the field shortly before noon for a brisk workout and bat practice in which Nick Altrock, deserting his clowd act for serious business, served up a few hits.

"The breakers were against us in New York," said Harris, "but I think they're due for a turn in our favor. Zachary will pitch and I think Peckinpaugh will be back at his old post."

After the chilly breezes that swept the Polo Grounds yesterday, the warming rays of a bright sun seemed a welcome relief. There were a few thousand of the faithful on hand to welcome the Griffith men back and shortly after noon the temporary camp of bleachers in far right center was filled chiefly by admirers of "Goose" Goslin, slugging outfielder, who had particular fondness for hitting home runs to this section of the field.

The first of his three circuit clouts went into this area last Sunday and sent the Senators on the way to victory.

The Giants did not appear until shortly after 1 o'clock. They went through a camp drill with the confidence of a team expecting to clinch matters this afternoon without further delay.

Art Nehf, southpaw star who was kept out of yesterday's game because of a thumb bruise sustained when he tried to stop a line drive here last Saturday in the opener, was declared by Hugie Jennings to be in shape to take the mound today.

"His thumb is nearly well," said Jennings, "and he is ready to go but Manager McGraw has not made a definite decision yet."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—King Basesball is back in Washington to do its best to put on its final act of the world series classic of 1924 in one or two scenes—depending upon the success of the Senators in their tilt with the New York Giants in the sixth game for baseball's premier honors.

Once again the nation's capital thrust aside its other business to jam its way into Griffith stadium where to the American League pennant winners with their backs to the wall must defeat the Giants or yield flimsily their hope of world championhip.

No waning of enthusiasm or bore among local fans was evident in the crowd that laid early siege to the ticket booth at the stadium for the several thousand bleacher seats put on sale at $1.00 a m. All other space in the grounds had been sold long before the outcome of the New York game had been determined.

Both teams returned from New York to the scene of battle here last night. A crowd of more than 3,000 at Union station shouted greetings and encouragement to the Washington players individually and collectively. If any of them were aware of the fact that the G ant players had arrived on the same train they gave little indication of it.

PECK TO GET BACK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Groogy and all out, Kid Washington, champion of the American League, engaged in a battle with the Nathanial Giant, strong man of the National, for possession of baseball's fairest prize, the world's championship, is home today to expire or to fight to live another day.

stop, whose absence from the contest was again sharply felt in the Giant's 6-to-5 victory yesterday, will make a heroic effort to get back today to engage in the battle, which, if won by the Giants, will end the series at four games to two, but which would tie up the issue at 3 games each and make another contest necessary if Washington wins.

Manager Harris, immediately after yesterday's battle, won the toss and Washington was awarded the seventh batch in one place.

To clinch the series today, Manager McGraw will continue his successful left-hand strategy and use Arthur Nehf who won the first game from Johnson but whose hand, injured in that contest, prevented him from taking his regular turn yesterday. McGraw is of the opinion that Nehf will be able to start today but stated that Virgil Barnes who was knocked out Tuesday, would be given another opportunity if Nehf was not ready.

Manager Harris will gamble his remaining chips on Tom Zachary whose timing magic bagged the Giants Sunday until he weakened. If Tom repeats today and is good until the late innings, "Firpo" Marberry will be rushed to the rescue and Mogridge, another portiside whose good pitching was a prelude to the second Senatorial victory, will be saved for the final.

The series has been full of drama and melodrama but the most touching picture of baseball history probably was drawn yesterday when an ambition of a lifetime was denied to Walter Johnson, a heroic figure whose achievements and influence will forever stand in relief of the freeze picturing the developments of the game.

After 18 years of great hurling with a losing club, Johnson entered his first world series with the advantage of being named the most valuable player to his club in the American League. The entire country wanted to see Johnson win a world series game; and there were times when a variation of two feet in a batted ball would have insured a victory.

"I couldn't hold them," Johnson said after the game. "I had two chances but couldn't come through. I may not play next year."

In the early stages of the game it seemed that the fates would smile on the veteran. Bentley was none too steady in the second and two men got on the sacks although neither scored. In the third, the first three Washington batters hit but none reached third. Johnson, the first of the trio, was thrown out in trying to stretch his single into a double. Two hits later, Gosselin tightened the noose in the fourth but Johnson hit the ball and was safe. Gosselin's third home run of the series, which tied the record set last year by Babe Ruth, was the only other tally given to Johnson.

Meanwhile the little god of chance shifted its smile from Johnson to the Giants. In the third three scratch singles sent in a run and left men on second and third a double play shut off further scoring in the fourth. Gosselin clouted a hard three base hit but was cut down on the base line by Sh. Walter himself after the latter thumbed Wilson's tap.

Miller, who played third while Bluey went to shortstop in the absence of Peckinpaugh, was nervous and so afflicted by a hand that his work was a depressing instead of a steady influence. Still Johnson kept curving and speeding away in the sixth. Gosselin passed second and the crushing blow fell—hard fly over the stands by Bentley, a home run by a few feet.

With two men on in the seventh Harris sent a fly deep into right but Young backed almost against the score board and made the third out. In the next frame Gosselin made his home and Judge doubled. McGraw sent McQuillan to relieve Bentley and the Senators were curbed.

The final count of fate was visited upon Johnson in the eighth. Kelly who had been relieved on previous times at bat, hit a single to start it. Then came Terry and then error on Wilson's tap, filling the sacks. Jackson's sacrifice fly and McQuillan's hit scored two runs. Lindstrom's 18-year-old Chicago schoolboy whose work at third base has been sensational during the series, made his fourth hit of the day and is seventh in the last two games to drive in one.

Young backed almost against the score board and made the third out. In the next frame Gosselin made his home and Judge doubled. McGraw sent McQuillan to relieve Bentley and the Senators were curbed.

Cabell St. Revival
Largely Attended;
Special Program

The series of revival services at Cabell Street Methodist church conducted by Rev. G. W. M. Taylor, pastor increases in interest as was evidenced by the largest attendance of the series last night. The junior choir, composed of thirty young people, led the song service in splendid manner, four of the members of this choir: Misses Ollie Higgins, Maxie Wells, Bernice Hamer and Ruth Lyle sang a solo in their voice.

The Brotherhood class attended the service as a body, seventy-eight men being present. The Ladies Bible class also attended, having sixty members present. These classes occupied front pews reserved for the two classes.

Rev. J. B. Askew, pastor of the Sutherlin circuit, was present and offered prayer, as did Mr. Clinghennell member of the Brotherhood class.

The pastor preached an effective sermon, using an illustration, "Come Unto Me all ye that are Heavy Ladened and I will give you Rest." The theme was "A Great Invitation."

At the close of the sermon a consecration service was held, a large number of women and men went forward to the alter rail and grasped the pastor's hand. The interest manifested was encouraging to the pastor and helpful to a large part of the membership of the church. Services to night again at 7:30 o'clock. A general invitation is extended to the general public.

The competitions will be divided into two distinct series of matches, namely gunnery and aerial bombing. A specified time prior to each type of match will be allotted for gunnery and bombing.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotion Revealed in Private Letter

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON, CONTINUED

You know he learned to walk after Leslie left for her father's house, and now he was so anxious to show him off that she placed him on the floor. He was so eager to reach his father that his little legs doubled up and he fell sprawling. You could hear his yell a block.

Leslie and I both made a dive to pick him up, and our heads bumped together with such a crack that she was almost knocked off her feet, and the kid cried harder than ever. For a moment I too was stunned, but at an exclamation from Mrs. Hamilton, I found blood running down my face. Some of it must have gotten into my eye, for I really thought I was blinded.

You see, Leslie had dolled up her bobbed head with a circle comb surrounded by wreath of flowers, and it had cut my head, and for me I was sure it had entered my eye. That immediately I was afraid I was going to go blind.

I was awful glad it had been done, for I thought we wouldn't have to have any explanations. I just pulled Leslie down to me and into my kiss went a lot of my suspense and unhappiness; indeed, there was almost all of my wounded pride.

I felt her lips grow cold under my passionate kiss. She grew limp in my arms, she had fainted. I do not think I was ever so frightened in my life. I thought she was dying.

Poor little Jack was taken away protesting with all his might. Mother Hamilton and I quickly got Leslie to bed, and she went for the doctor.

Leslie did not quite recover consciousness until the next morning, when her eyes opened and found mine looking into them, such a radiant look came into her face. She pulled my head down close to her lips and whispered to me that she is going to have a baby.

I cannot tell you how terribly I felt. It seemed to me Leslie would never forgive me if I any happenstance her baby would be a boy and she would feel that my child by another wife bore his father's name and all the honor that would come to the eldest son.

Some of the consternation I felt must have shown in my face, for with trembling lips she asked: "Oh, Jack, aren't you glad?"

I looked at her in surprise, then I realized what a big woman she was. I don't believe she had even thought of little Jack as anything but her own son. For just as that moment the baby came nearer the door, we heard his little wobbly steps and his tearful voice saying: "I want my Muver, want my Muver!"

For a moment, Sid, my heart stood still. It seemed to me the fight had begun. Here was a woman calling "I want my Muver!" and the other child as yet unnameable. But in my heart I knew Leslie was.

I realized the feeling that he would come into the world with the same battle cry.

Over Leslie's face passed the most beautiful smile I have ever seen; it made it Madonna-like in its soft beauty. Her arms went out as though she could not wait to clasp the boy she had not borne, but the boy who was absolutely locked within her heart.

"Open the door, Jack, and let my son in! He shall have his Muver, now and always as long as he and she are alive."

THE POPULAR SURPRISE-CLOSING FROCK

This design is an excellent exponent of the summer version of the style we knew as the coat dress during the past season. It is universally popular, perhaps because of its becomingness. You'll like it too, because it is so easily slipped into.

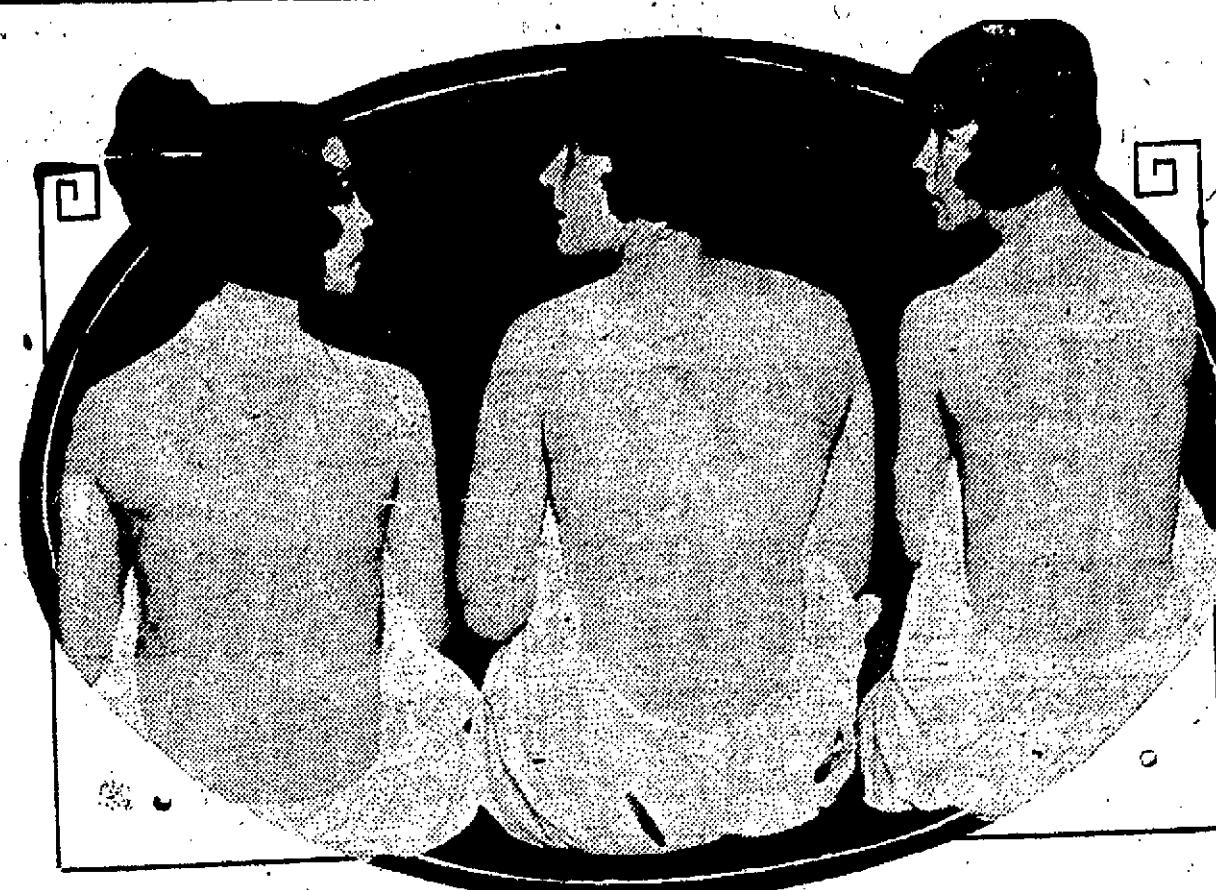

The dress pattern—2182—is cut in sizes 16 years, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. In the 36-inch size, 2½ yards of 40-inch material with 1½ yards 36-inch contrasting is required. Price 15c, in stamp or coin (coin preferred).

SHENANDOAH ARRIVES AT FORT WORTH EIGHT HOURS AHEAD OF HER SCHEDULE

(By The Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 9.—The Shenandoah delayed 45 minutes this morning on account of taking on supplies, sailed westward from Fort Worth at 9:45 a.m.

The ship sailed over Fort Worth and suburbs for twenty minutes before heading west. It is expected to reach El Paso at 6 p.m.

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 9.—favorable weather was promised today for the second leg of the trans-continental flight of the big navy dirigible Shenandoah which was homeward to a 460 foot mast here last night after her hop from Lake Huron. It was the first time a dirigible ever landed west of the Mississippi river.

Today's course was charted along the Texas and Pacific railroad to San Diego, California, the route recently traversed by the United States army round-the-world fliers. The next stage will be to the terminus of the military making flight, Camp Lewis, Lakewood, Washington. The return will be made over the same route to take advantage of the mooring masts especially installed here, and at San Diego.

Lieutenant C. E. Rosendahl, a navigator, joined the personnel of the ship here after completing an inspection of the landing facilities at the western stop-over points.

The Shenandoah, with the addition of Lieut. Rosendahl, is carrying 41 persons, 12 officers, 27 men and two visitors. The dirigible floated easily on Fort Worth in approximately 34 hours, arriving about eight hours ahead of schedule. Actual performance of the ship was in all respects better than the schedule, Admiral Moffett said. Her speed was faster and fuel consumption less. The ship through a touch of rough weather in Louisiana without a tremor, the admiral said.

According to the record of the engineers, less than one gallon of gasoline was used per mile. The ship is propelled by five six-cylinder motors, each of 300 horsepower. The quantity of lubricating oil was too small to be of record, though the motors maintained an average engine speed of 1,000 revolutions per minute.

During the flight 1,000 gallons of water were recovered by means of condensers from the ship consumed in the motors. The water ballast thus manufactured was heavier than the gasoline which it replaced.

During the night the ship was moored within a half mile of the only helium extracting plant in the world. This gas, which is non-combustible, is used exclusively by the United States military aeronautics. It was the discovery of an American and American industry has evolved the only economical method of extracting it from natural gas. The Shenandoah is floated with helium.

An additional supply of helium will be taken on here when the ship returns from the coast, Commander Lansdowne said.

Grant Steed to Be Brought to Danville Event From Richmond

Secretary H. B. Watkins has just returned from the State Fair at Richmond, where he has been to close contracts for some of the best herds of live stock shown at the Fair and to look over the Sheehey Shows coming to the Danville Fair next week. The Secretary is more than pleased with results of the trip, as he has secured some of the finest cattle in the short-horn class that is showing in the country. This completes the Danville cattle show as all other classes are already represented. The swine show is also complete with exceedingly high-class herd of Durock Jerseys exhibited by Lee Paul of Chatham. The livestock show in all classes will be the most complete ever shown on Danville grounds.

The people attending the Fair will have the opportunity of seeing Sealion, the biggest horse in the world, weighing around 3,000 pounds. This wonderful horse has been shown at the Great State Fairs throughout the West and the Fair Association has been very fortunate in securing this attraction.

The Agriculture building will be taxed to the limit to accommodate exhibitors and horticulture products.

There will be fourteenth schools and clubs exhibits in the building showing the variety of farm products of practically every accredited high school of the county.

Every inch in the Merchants building has been taken by exhibitors and display of domestic arts, beautiful merchandise with an attractive flower show will make that building particularly attractive.

Owners of trucks, wagons and drays which will deliver goods on the Fair grounds must provide themselves with a wagon pass and that hours for delivery will be from 7 o'clock to 10 o'clock a.m. and between 5 and 6:30 p.m. No deliveries will be allowed on the grounds between the hours mentioned.

Exhibitors are urged to bring in their exhibits to the office, Room No. 14, of the Dudley Building, before Saturday at noon, to avoid the usual rush on Saturday. Deliveries of the exhibits can be made at the Fair grounds daily Monday, farmers delivering farm products up to 9 o'clock Tuesday morning also bread, pies, and cakes can be delivered on Tuesday at 9 o'clock. Books will be closed at 9 o'clock Tuesday for entries of all kinds.

Says Allenruh Surely Conquers RHEUMATISM

Mr. James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called "salt deposits," were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenruh, to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers.

"The blessed relief this marvelous remedy quickly gives has made it the wonder of friends," says Mr. Paul's Drug Store who has been appointed agent in your city. It is Mr. Allen's own discovery.—adv.

ANALYSIS HELD UP UNTIL $300 GIVEN LAWYERS TO MERGE FOR IN HUGHES CASE

Determination of Miss Long's Death Delayed Pending Appeal.

Certain organs of Miss Blanche Long whose death is being enquired into by the police authorities of Danville have not yet been sent to the state board of health for chemical analysis it was learned today. A fee of $300 is required for making such an analysis and as neither the commonwealth's attorney nor the coroner has funds at command to defray this expense, it is proposed to ask the city council finance committee to authorize that expenditure. The council will meet on Friday night when the matter may be brought up.

Commonwealth's Attorney Carter who was questioned this morning regarding developments in the inquiry stated that he believed that the analysis should be made and that the sum of $300 should not stand between determining whether Miss Long died a natural death or if she swallowed poison. Analysis of the stomach would inevitably betray traces of poison having been swallowed just before death and Mr. Carter is of the opinion that the point should be determined. The fee, the state official believes, is high. The task however, he has been advised by physicians, is not a light one and entails careful work by trained chemists.

It is improbable that there will be any further development in the case until a decision has been reached on the $300. Enquiry of City Health Officer Garnett revealed that the analysis in question is a very complicated matter and could not be done in Danville. At the local health office certain simple analyses are undertaken but most of the work is undertaken by special equipment and possibly would be undertaken and it would require special equipment and possibly would take a week's time. Dr. Garnett said that he did not believe the state board undertakes such work and that a private chemist or chemical concern would have to be employed.

Officials apparently have eliminated the theory of the girl swallowing antiseptic tablets, a bottle containing which was found in the girl's trunk. Bichloride of mercury is a slow poison and corrodes the kidneys. These organs were found to be normal by Dr. J. E. Taylor who performed the autopsy, according to his statement to the coroner's jury. The poison would not have acted quickly in any event, it is said.

The little bottle containing the tablets misplaced yesterday has been found. Chief of Police Bell reported this was placed in his office safe for additional safe-keeping, the fact not being known to officers yesterday when it was sought. The bottle fails to show any markings which would indicate the drug store at which it was purchased.

Munsey Long, uncle of the girl, was released yesterday evening on a bail of $1,000. Additional facts surrounding his activities are in the possession of the police, it was learned this morning. It is understood that they have evidence that he was in company with Miss Long early on Tuesday morning.

An emphatic denial was entered yesterday by Mrs. W. O. Paul of Calvert street, who she had written the letters which may have prompted the death by suicide. Mrs. E. C. Taylor, at whose home Miss Long had boarded for eighteen months and William R. Butler, the girl's fiance, both received letters in the same handwriting attacking the character of Miss Long. One of the letters was in red ink and the other in black ink. The initials in each letter were similar. Mrs. Taylor and Butler testifying that the coroner's inquest yesterday noted Miss Long as saying she suspected the letters to have been written by Mrs. Paul who was later questioned by the police who noted Mrs. Paul as neither denying nor admitting that she wrote them. Mrs. Paul declared that night that she had not concerned herself about Miss Long in any way since the young woman moved from next door to her house about two years ago. She said she had nothing against the girl and that she had no motive in writing such a letter. She added that she wishes that Miss Long could have carried out her wedding plans.

DANVILLE WOMAN IS NOMINATED TO U. D. C. OFFICER

Federal Court Proceeding Planned Unless Trinity Corp. Compromises

The Edwards Heirs' Association which is planning to make a legal contest for the possession of certain valuable land on Manhattan Island, New York, met here this afternoon and virtually decided to consolidate with the other associations throughout the country in order that they may present a solid front in the impending litigation. W. T. Edwards, of Meade and Harris and Harvey who would be the state and prepared for litigation, in the will contest will divide this sum between them after deducting the sum of $11,045 already paid them on account.

Some time ago when it became a question of arriving at adequate compensation for the attorneys involved in the task of winding up an intricate estate the two firms filed papers with Judge Withers asking him to set the figure by which they would abide. With the papers were filed letters from lawyers of Danville and other prominent barristers of the state of Virginia who were asked for their views on an adequate fee for services rendered. The fees suggested ranged from $65,000, the figure suggested by one Danville attorney to $200,000 which was the figure suggested by a well known Lynchburg firm of lawyers.

Judge Withers took the case under advisement and scrutinized the work which still remains to be done before the estate of the tobacco man with his holdings in several states has been completely wound up. He set $75,000 minus the sum paid on account as a proper fee.

The court record after rehearing the petition filed by Meade and Harris and Harvey concluded with the statement that "the court holds that a fee of $75,000 is fair and reasonable" the same to be paid the said firms equally after deducting therefrom the sum of $11,045 already paid on account.

Mr. Edwards believes that the heirs have a strong case at law and there is no question that if a compromise is not reached they will go to the courts.

Being a great, powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bringing speedy and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuralgia much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

THE FALLACY OF STRAW VOTES

Notwithstanding the general interest which is displayed in the presidential straw vote which is being taken by the Literary Digest at a probable expense of a million dollars, the method of its conduct robs it of any authenticity. It is excellent propaganda, however, for the Republican party for there are thousands of vacillating voters who will be prompted to align themselves on what would appear on the face of returns to be the winning party. It is human nature for people to want to be with the victor in any contest.

This business of taking telephone directories and taking so many of the 'A's and so many of the 'B's, thus on through the alphabet and addressing ballot post cards to them is by no means conclusive. It is a well known fact that people of small means very largely among the working classes have no telephones and it is the vote of the working class as a whole which determines any election. They therefore are, in large measure, ignored in the poll which reflects business and professional men. At least four ballot cards have been received in the editorial rooms of this newspaper, a high proportion for one enterprise considering the comparatively small number of cards distributed in Danville.

The New York World, editorially strikes the Literary Digest's poll at its most vital spot and in the following language:

"According to the Literary Digest's own figures, defining party members as they voted in the last election, the Digest has set its ballots to 402,158 Republicans and 431,565 Democrats. The Digest has thus given twenty-eight Republicans a chance to vote for every ten Democrats who have one of its post-card ballots."

"But in the eighteen States from which results have been reported, the ratio of Republicans to Democrats, even in the landslide year of 1920, was only 20.6 to 10. The difference between 28 to 10 and 20.6 to 10 is difference enough to weight the election hopelessly against a Democratic candidate. Of course, the Digest doesn't risk its voting list. But the electorate it polls is no more a true sample even of the 1920 electorate than those proportions indicate."

FIRE PREVENTION

Whatever is destroyed by fire increases the cost of living for each of us. It may take time, but such losses inevitably spread out through the whole system of economics to be borne by all.

So all of us should give deep thought to the fifty-third anniversary of the Chicago fire which has been dedicated to National Fire Prevention Week.

No fires are played. You are not asked to contribute funds. The week merely is to make us think of the enormous waste of fires, most of which result from carelessness.

The great Chicago fire of 1871 destroyed $1,000,000 of property. At 4 per cent compound interest, that today would amount to about $700,000.

And yet each year, to the dismayed by the fire in America, total a greater loss—estimated at $1,000,000 a year. The evil is spreading, so we do not realize that every 100 houses destroyed a greater confirmation than the fire of 1871.

Houses destroyed annually by fire would make a street over 200 miles long. On top of burned buildings we have enormous wealth forever destroyed.

TODAY'S TALK

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

Bodies, Minds, and Pearls

Probably the most precious of all jewels is the pearl. Yet I am told that the rarest and most prized pearl may actually "wear out." Continual wear is said to reduce the pearl's lustre and often the shade. For this reason experts say that pearls must be exposed to the sunlight.

If plenty of sun is given to pearls they retain their mellow lustre and soft lights. Few people know this to be a fact.

Recently I read of a great doctor who treated tuberculosis and other serious wasting disease merely by giving the patient months of sunlight.

Flowers dress up in their most royal garb under the love and kisses of the sun's rays.

And the mind that opens its windows and doors and looks for the light, remains strong and full of health.

The sun cures. Impurities die and wither under the blazing of the sun's rays.

The early races that lived under the sun, browned by its beating, were models of health.

Clean thoughts are those washed by the sun of clean desire.

Sunlight is mankind's protector. It lifts the beauty of the earth out of the ground at springtime and colors it gorgeously during the summer and then changes it all during autumn until the tired leaves and petals of the dying year tumble to their winter rest.

Life would all perish were it not for the sunlight.

And so in our hearts we would perish spiritually if we didn't let the sun in, if we didn't keep hunting for the light, and if we didn't give light to others.

A beautiful heart is something that the sun has touched.

ed by forest fires. What has turned into ashes is gone.

The important point is that most fires result from carelessness, that the fire rate can be cut materially by exercising personal caution. The only way to prevent fire is to be careful in handling fire or the things that produce combustion—matches, smoldering cigarette stubs, gasoline, camp-fires and greasy rags. An ounce of prevention is worth a ton of ashes.

OCTOBER

Thirty-one days of cool, invigorating weather, perfect motoring, ideal working temperature, brilliant panoramas and glorious skies. That describes October.

There is some doubt as to the existence of an Indian Summer, but if there is such an ideal season it is October, which, coincidentally, is the month when Indian Summer is supposed to put in its appearance. There is a real suspicion that Indian Summer is just another name for October.

At least October weather corresponds with that of the mythical Indian Summer.

October is death to vegetable life but it is life to man. While the leaves take on their colorful shrouds and the green meadowlands fade to the brown of 'death,' man's blood is all a-tingle and the joy of living is at its zenith. Every October day is made for work and play. The bright, crisp mornings are an inspiration for work or for communion with nature, the days make one strive to make the most of them and the nights are "built for sleep."

Sad and dreary will be the parting when October drops behind and dismal November ushers in her sober clouds and chill winds.

ANVIL SPARKS

Brevity may be the soul of wit, but there is nothing funny about being short of sleep.

Opportunity passes by quicker than a high-powered auto.

A dollar isn't as hard to keep as two dollars.

All of the people who went for a vacation didn't get one.

You can't uplift people by stepping on their necks.

You hear as many people laughing in small houses as you do in big ones.

The trouble with taking your own time is you never have any left over.

Money talks, but not until it grows up.

Little money, it seems, like small children, should be seen but not heard.

Two many flies get through the summer without being swatted.

A married man's things are never left in the middle of the floor, where he can find them.

The closer a man is the more distant his friends are.

No tricks are played. You are not asked to contribute funds. The week merely is to make us think of the enormous waste of fires, most of which result from carelessness.

The great Chicago fire of 1871 destroyed $1,000,000 of property. At 4 per cent compound interest, that today would amount to about $700,000.

When The Baby Wakes

When the baby wakes from sleeping, Life is good, and well I know it! There is laughter in her eyes And no hint of last night's weeping. Earth has heard no sweater-sighs Since her gurgling and her cooing As she croons another day. Age may have to curse parenting, But the baby will be happy.

When the baby wakes from slumber, There is sunshine on her cheeks. There are smiles, too swift to number. It is music when the speechless And the wet the shucks her gladness. Drives all thought of grief away, Age may sometimes wake to sorrow, But the baby wakes to play.

The Man Who Believes Everything He ReadsScoop's Column

DRAKES BRANCH, October 9.—(Grapevine Wireless)—No wonder it costs more to send kids to school now than it did when we older ones were acquiring what we hoped would be an education, mutters Aunt Het. In those days a 15-cent slate, a 10-cent copy book, a 4-cent penholder and a penny steel pen-point and a little bottle of ink made from mother's washing indigo equipped us for fingerin' and writin'. Now the kids have to buy 10-cent writing pads every few days, an everything else in proportion, and if they live more than half a mile from school, they have to have Fords or something better to carry them to and from.

An ambitious young Danville man went to a university professor and said: "Sir, I desire a course of training which will fit me to become the superintendent of a great railway system. How much will a course cost, and how long will it take?"

"Young man," replied the professor, "such a course would cost you $25,000 and require 20 years of your time. But on the other hand, by spending $300 of your money and three months of your time you may be elected to Congress. Once there you will feel yourself competent to direct not one, but all the great railroad systems of our country."

Stand perfectly still when a woman throws a stone at you. If you dodge you may get hit.

The bell-hop in the Miller Building says D. O. K. K. means "Doings of Ku Klux." So, the mystery deepens. Anyway, the visitors had a lot of fun last night up and down Main street.

Open season for chitlins—and pumpkin pie!

Pa ain't had to sift no ashes for nearly a week now. Ain't this Indian summer weather g-l-o-r-i-o-u-s!! We'll say hit is!

Changing the Example.

A Chicago teacher gave a pupil a problem for home study which was in substance: How long would it take a certain number of men, working ten hours a day, to complete a certain job? The next morning one pupil handed the teacher a note written by "Dear sir, I refuse to let my son James do his sum up give him last night as it looks to me like a stir on the eight-hour system. An sum not more than eight hours he is welcome to do but not more."

Friend Husband (telephoning home from the office): "I'm not coming home tonight, dearie."

Poor Wife: "May I depend on that?"

The Janitor: How did you come to lose your job?

Bright Tobacco Crop Record Set

More of the bright tobacco crop remained in the field October 1 than has been the case in 20 years, declares A. R. Breedlove, manager of the leaf department of the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association. Conditions in the old belt are reported to be more satisfactory.

Mr. Breedlove stated that 20 per cent of the bright crop was in the field October 1, while in former years at this time the crop has been in the barns.

Wet spells and second growth caused by the rains have somewhat delayed the cutting of the crop in the old belt. The work is reported to be progressing satisfactorily. Deliveries to the association are said to be satisfactory up to this time.

Association officials estimated the old belt crop to be about 15 per cent short of the crop of 1923. The late cuttings are expected to be heavier and yield a greater poundage than already out.

IRENE CASTLE GOWNS AT EFIRD DEPT. STORE

Irene Castle frocks have been added to the merchandise handled at the local Efird store, according to an announcement made today by L. L. Benson, manager of the local store.

"The gowns are all designed by Irene Castle, who is known as America's Best Dressed Woman," Mr. Benson said, and that the line was only handled by the large stores of the Efird chain.

"The number of garments of each model is rapidly limited," Mr. Benson said, "and Miss Castle insists that material used in each will be the same as the material used in the gown she wears herself."

"We consider ourselves unusually fortunate in securing these distinguished creations of the fashion world in Danville, and we take pleasure in showing them to the public."

Danville to Have Avenue of Flags

In order to provide the city and its merchants with some form of permanent decorating scheme to be used on patriotic occasions such as Armistice Day, Fourth of July, Memorial Day, etc., and also during conventions, for which this city is becoming noted, the Retail Merchants Association and Danville Post, No. 10, American Legion, will start to work today on a plan which, when finished, will provide the city with one of the most effective schemes of decoration yet devised.

The plan calls for the sinking into the curb in front of each merchant's store a pipe-socket with a removable base cap. Into this socket is inserted a 12-foot pole with ornamental top and rope balyards carrying a 4x6 foot extra heavy, high-grade American bag. These flags and the equipment remain the property of the merchants and are displayed whenever occasion arises.

The base can screw off the top of the socket when the flag is removed and closes the hole against entrance of dirt and trash.

The effect of this unbroken row of national colors is striking, literally an avenue of flags on Main, Market, Union and Craghead Streets. People who have seen this decorative scheme in use in High Point, Greensboro, Asheville and other places are emphatic in their assertions that this forms one of the best possible means of decorating and at cost so very low that the merchant welcome the opportunity of participating in the scheme.

The Merchants' Association and the Legion believe that they are rendering the merchants and the city a real patriotic service in offering this decoration system for their consideration, and it is hoped that they will respond in order that the decorations may be ready for Armistice Day next month.

The display of the national colors on patriotic occasions is regarded as the duty of every American.

PYTHIAN SISTERS ALSO IN SESSION

The Grand Temple of Pythian Sisters, the growing feminine branch of auxiliary to the Order of Knights of Pythias, held three sessions yesterday, with 45 or 50 ladies attending and representing the sixteen temples of the Virginia jurisdiction. These meetings were held in the Y. M. C. A. hall, the first at 9 A. M., the next in the afternoon, and finally a memorial service in the evening.

As a direct result of the assembling of the Grand Temple here a meeting of the Grand Temple here a meeting was held yesterday another supreme chief of the Pythian Sisters.

Besides Mrs. Munson, there was present yesterday another supreme officer, Mrs. Elsie Vandervoort of Washington, D. C., supreme manager of the order.

Interesting and encouraging reports were made to the Grand temple yesterday from all the subordinate temples represented. The standing committees will make their reports at this morning's session, all of them in writing. At present the Pythian Sisters have a membership of about 1,200 in Virginia.

The temples represented here include the following: Virginia, No. 1; Fredericksburg, Norfolk, No. 3; Portsmouth, No. 4; Richmond, Hill Cockade City, No. 6; Petersburg, Hill City, No. 7; Lynchburg, Mathews, No. 8; Washington, D. We have bought the largest number of garments in the past two weeks that we have ever bought in a like time, and at prices lower for real quality and style that we have ever heard of. We have simply took the entire output of numbers of manufacturers numbering into the thousands and thousands of Dresses and Coats. I know our stores can sell Dresses and coats this Fall at lower prices than our competitors are paying for them in New York. Put on a sale at once and save the good people some money for we have shipped enough to each store during the past ten days to fill them up.

RECOGNITION OF OCTOBER REVOLUTION

(World-Wide News Service) MOSCOW, Oct. 7.—At the plenary session of the Moscow Soviet to discuss the Anglo-Soviet Agreement, M. Chicherin declared that the treaty was equivalent to international recognition of the October Revolution at the basis of the Soviet State. Mr. Lloyd George had called the Commercial Agreement to 1921 an armistice. This general treaty constituted the first definite treaty of peace with a big foreign power. He emphasized that the mutual obligations undertaken in it regarding debts, property, and the proposed loan constituted an industry whole. He described the result of a five years' peaceful duel between the Soviet Republic and the capitalist countries, and declared that the Soviet Republic was entering the wide political arena of the Pacific Ocean.

LET'S ALL GO CRAZY!

WHETHER IT HAS PROVED US A NATION OF IMBECILES, WHETHER WE ARE RAISING A GENERATION OF ALPHABETIC IDIOTS, OR WHETHER IT MERELY PROVES THAT THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE HAS BEEN RECENTLY DISCOVERED—THE FACT REMAINS THAT THE CROSSWORD PUZZLE FAD IS SWEEPING THE COUNTRY. READ BELOW AND BE BIT.

How to Solve A Crossword

Crossword puzzle solving is the latest fad. If you have ever solved puzzles, you like crosswords. If you have never solved puzzles, you'll like crosswords.

It's a game that's educational, yet it can be enjoyed by the first-grader as well as the erudite professor. Once you've started, it is hard to stop. The puzzles are fascinating and challenging.

Here's how they are solved:

Each white square is to be filled in with a letter. When filled out, the letters form words that can be read either vertically or horizontally.

To find out what the letters are, first find the words.

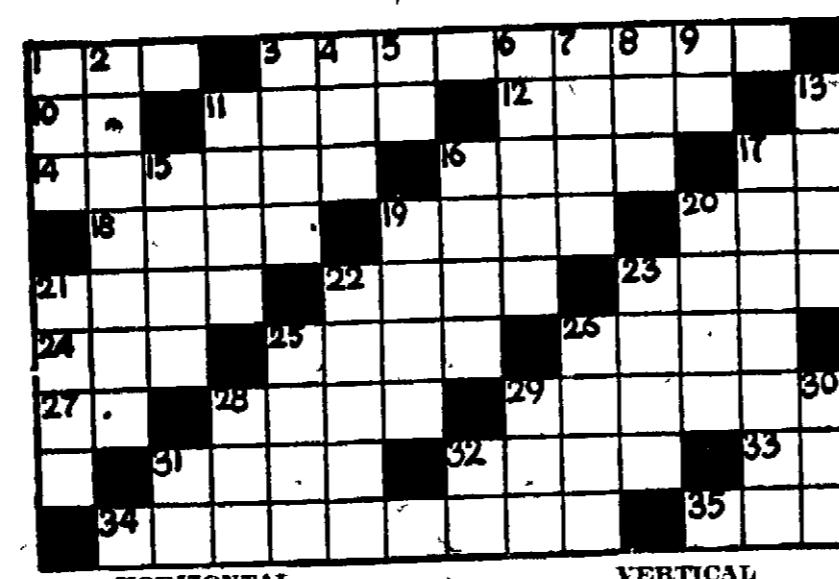

Each word is defined. The numbers indicate where the first letter falls. You can determine the number of letters in each word by the number of squares from the first letter to the next black square to the right or below, or to the edge of the puzzle. Each letter occupies one square.

Try the first puzzle, printed here-with. Starting at the upper left corner, you will note that there are three white squares on the horizontal line. The definition for 1 (the number in the square where the first letter will fall) horizontal, "Whence a golfer lams the pill." Correct. There are three white squares in the vertical line. The definition for 1 is "One more than nine." Easy, when you know that it must begin with "T" and that it has three letters? Ten! Of course!

Now try 10 horizontal. When you have that, it will help give you the first two letters of 2 vertical.

Do not be discouraged if you can not solve the problem from beginning to end. Skip around, and then go back.

Remember that each horizontal word solved will give you a few letters for your vertical words. And each vertical word solved will give you letters for your horizontal words.

HORIZONTAL

- Whence a golfer lams the pill
- To reduce into grains. (Keep sugar in mind.)
- A measure used in printing.
- A body of water surrounding a castle.
- Fiddled while Rome burned, there not being saxophones in those days.
- A body of people organized into an independent country (Remember Carrie?)
- A kind of cheese.
- To exist.
- To require.
- Part, sense of "breed."
- Fingerless glove for the hand (although we confess it's often split otherwise).
- Physical hurt.
- The home of a wild beast.
- Square ones don't fit in round holes.
- The abbreviation for "and others."
- What mother does to socks, and what father says when the razor slips.
- Ask brother what they sell five cents worth of ice cream in.
- The second musical note; a word adopted from the Latin meaning "concerning."
- To show the weakness of age.
- Encompassing on all sides.
- Soft mud or slime.
- Devout of water.
- A game. (A trick word of vowels only.)
- Sums paid for use of money, also what La Follette claims to be attacking.
- Music, painting, sculpturing.

VERTICAL

- One more than nine.
- To flow out.
- Beneficent.
- The past of run.
- A preposition meaning "next to."
- Another preposition, this one meaning beneath.
- To show the way.
- That piece of you between your shoulder and wrist.
- A preposition meaning "in a direction toward."
- Outward appearance.
- Sociable animals.
- An ornament worn above the nose by women of India.
- An Irishman's name for Ireland.
- A hybrid between two species of different genera.
- Bairn.
- A ritzy name for the bill of fare.
- Saucy.
- Comparative of late.
- A Russian weight of about 26 pounds.
- To sleep lightly.
- A short dagger with a waved blade used by Maylayans.
- A round mark.
- If you didn't guess 35 horizontal, it is up to define this one, as they are identical.
- And this, strangely enough, is the same as 28 vertical.
- A preposition meaning "upon."
- In a like manner.

the man who seems surest of victory.

Also, while an outsider, trying to get in, may indulge in a hammer-and-tongs campaign, a similarly strenuous battle by one already in would be interpreted as meaning that he was badly scared. And that would be an unfortunate impression on the faint-hearted followers to abandon his cause.

Coolidge's viewpoint is that for a candidate who is already in office to indulge in much speech making indicates that he is on the defensive. The fellows who leading the offense, he agreed, must talk. But the best program for the man already in is to stand pat, say nothing, and create an atmosphere of unshakable confidence.

The president says he never knew a candidate to lose anything by talking too little, so he's striving to talk even less than usual.

After his demand that Charles Davis be ousted as vice presidential candidate of the Republican party, G. O. P. leaders are more than ever certain that Senator Brookhart's enemies were clairvoyant when they named him Smith WILDMAN Brook Hart. Because since Brookhart and his challenge there are now a lot of wild men around Coolidge-Dawes headquarters.

After all, the enthusiasm on tap in a presidential campaign is pretty much of a manufactured article. Official as well as civil Washington has been a lot more "hot up" over the world's series than it will be over any possible result of the November elections.

FUNERAL OF B. H. MCGUIRE

Many friends and acquaintances of the deceased and of the family attended the funeral services of Ben H. McGuire at 11 a. m. yesterday at the Calvary Methodist church, with which he was long connected. The Rev. J. S. Gresham, pastor of Calvary, was assisted in the service by the Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor, rector of the new Church of the Epiphany. The service consisted of the simple yet beautiful ritual of the church with tender and appropriate prayers and music. A number of the brothers and sisters of McGuire had come to the city to attend the funeral, as well as other relatives.

Many beautiful floral expressions of sympathy and sorrow were sent by friends, and these covered the grave at the conclusion of the committal services in Leemont cemetery.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. George E. Harris, B. H. Marshall, S. J. Bowes, A. T. Bailey, B. W. Hudson and R. K. Mitchell.

The flowers were borne by T. E. Bowes, W. J. Jarrett, J. C. Jett, J. L. Taylor, J. M. Coleman, J. W. Trent, Howard Ferguson, Charles W. Clark, W. M. Clark, George S. Moore, R. E. Clark, J. W. Yarborough, and W. R. Mitchell, Jr., C. G. Holland.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made
Here's an easy way to save $2. and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known man of make-up, cough syrup. But have you ever used it? Why do you, will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home. Into a quart bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pine, then add plain granulated sugar and stir to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost. This home-made remedy conquers a cough usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pine is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pine" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pine Co. Ft. Wayne, Ind.

FOOTBALL QUESTIONS

If You Have Some Question to Ask About Football Write—

LAWRENCE PERRY,
Special Football Correspondent of The Bee, 814 World Building,
New York

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)

QUESTION—Player of Team A tosses ball underhand to a man in front of him and this man in turn throws a forward pass spirally. A player of Team B intercepts ball. Now there were two forward passes made by Team A, which was foul. Can Team B now keep the gain made by the player who intercepted the ball? That is can Team B decline the penalty?

ANSWER—The penalty may be declined.

QUESTION—A forward pass has been made and a defensive player trying to intercept the ball touches it but does not catch it. Is any member of either team eligible to catch the ball after it has thus been touched?

ANSWER—Everybody is eligible in this case.

QUESTION—When a team suddenly pulls a new and strange play which is legal what will happen if the referee thinks it is illegal?

ANSWER—What the referee thinks goes on is always well for a team before a game to prepare the referee in advance for th play, explain it to him and get him to pass on its legality. All important college teams do this.

CINCINNATI. Oct. 9.—Jake Daubert, captain of the Cincinnati Reds, died early today at Good Samaritan hospital.
Death came to the veteran baseball player after a valiant fight against complications which set in following an operation last Thursday for the removal of his appendix. Blood transfusion was resorted to yesterday in an effort to prolong his life, but the illness had so absorbed his vitality that it was of no avail.
Daubert's condition first became aggravated on the last eastern tour of the Reds when he was taken ill in New York. Manager Jack Hendricks sent him to his home in Schenckville, Pa., and his sudden departure led to reports that Daubert would be engaged to manage a minor league club. He remained at home several days and then came to Cincinnati and played in the last game of the season at Redland Field on September 27. Dr. Harry H. Hines, city physician, said Daubert disregarded advice of physician in returning to the line-up. Later he remarked to Dr. Hines that it probably was his last game in the league.

BEST WORLD SERIES PICTURE

The scores of world series photographers covering the championship games meet with unusual difficulties. They must leave the playing field when the game starts. Shadows cover the infield in the early innings. Yet thousands of fans want to see how the games are won and lost. The above is a most unusual photograph and is by all odds the best made so far in the series. It was taken by Bob Dorman, NEA Service and The Bee's photographer, with a long-range camera. In the second inning of the third game Marberry, Washington pitcher, uncorked a wild pitch. Jackson, of the Giants, was on third and dashed for home as Ruel, catcher, chased the ball. Marberry rushed in to take Ruel's throw. Here you see Jackson safe at home as he bowled over Marberry, with Umpire Dineen making the decision and Kelly, of the Giants, looking on.

Swat Record Goes Into Discard

By BILLY EVANS

Agressive youth is a great asset. If you doubt it here is a story about a 20-year-old lad who paid his own railroad fare from Nokomis, Ill., to St. Louis, Mo., and four years later smashed a record that had been the baseball books for 32 years.

James Leroy Bottomley started the baseball sphere on Tuesday, Sept. 16, by driving in 12 runs against the Brooklyn Superbas. Bottomley is the 20-year-old youth who was so insistent upon being major league manager that his "crash the apple" idea paid his expenses from his home town to a big league ball park.

During the closing days of the 1919 season Scout Charley Barrett of the St. Louis Cardinals had been flooded with letters from Bottomley, who insisted that he was good enough for the professional circuit.

Plenty of Confidence

Bottomley's baseball experience had been as a semi-pro around the mining towns of southern Illinois.

"If you're as good as you say you are," wrote Barrett, "come over and let us take a look at you."

That was all Bottomley needed. He caught the next train and introduced himself to Scout Barrett and Manager Branch Rickey.

"I'll take you on my hands," Barrett remarked to Rickey and in 1920 Bottomley was the first baseman for Mitchell in the Dakota League. He batted .312 in 97 games.

In 1921 he was with Houston. A sore knee handicapped him all summer and he averaged but .227 in 1921.

Record Stood for 32 Years

Bottomley continued to advance and when he had an average of .348 and when he had a record of 1892 remained intact—he made seven hits in his game while Bottomley could not touch it as he was up but six times.

But where Bottomley totaled 13 bases with his six hits Robby only touched eight, getting only a double for his extra base collection.

When the ninth inning closed

HOW BOTTOMLEY DID IT

First Inning—Single scores two.
Second Inning—Double scores one.
Fourth Inning—Home run scores four.
Sixth Inning—Home run scores two.
Ninth Inning—Single scores one.

The NUT CRACKER BY JOE WILLIAMS

No one would complain if the baseball fellows revived base stealing and let the other forms of thievery alone.

Jimmy O'Connell wins the distinction of being the goat of the 1924 series without even putting on a uniform.

McGraw says he has done everything to make baseball what it is, we are not inclined to contradict him.

After waiting 18 years for a seat in the main dining room, Walter Johnson found the ice cream had turned to ashes.

It may be that the fans expected too much of the big swift in the series, but they could hardly have expected less from his team-mates.

The deportation charge against Flippo has been dismissed. So has the belief that he ever could fight.

The football headlines announce that William and Mary were slaughtered by the Navy and we are wondering what the poor things were guilty of.

While the Giants will be known as a team which won four straight flags, a lot of people may object that straight is not the proper word.

Forward pass finished last in a race at Stamford. This seems to prove the old-timers' contention that mass plays were better.

The fight critics say Fred Fulton is an enigma. We have never met an enigma face to face, but it must be a terrible thing.

Dempsey is doing a monolog in vaudeville, but the fans would rather hear him say it with fists.

It is not surprising to hear the Red Sox are the worst hitting team in baseball. They didn't even make a hit with the fans.

Michigan Picks Up Two Stars

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 9.—"Bo" Molenda and Bennie Oosterbaan, two of the greatest all-round athletes ever turned out in Michigan prep school ranks, have entered the University of Michigan. They have come out of the "frash" football team this fall.

The coming of Molenda and Oosterbaan means much to the Wolverines. Each is a star of the first magnitude. Both are athletes of the highest caliber. And both are four-sport men.

Molenda is a product of Detroit Eastern High, where he excelled in football, baseball, basketball and track. At Easton he was rated as the greatest all-around performer the school ever produced. Last winter he was selected as All-America center at the national basketball tournament in Chicago.

Oosterbaan, like Molenda, stars in football, baseball, basketball and track. He comes from Muskegon High, where for three seasons he was the big noise. As an end on the gridiron, Oosterbaan was a veritable college player, a prep school eleven. He was especially adept at grabbing forward flings out of the air. On the defense he was a regular stone wall. In 1923 Oosterbaan was picked as All-America center at the national basketball tournament.

Ninety per cent of all the people are good people," he says, "but they are more temperamental than a few years ago."

Visitors from the west bring with them their trials to New York a portion of their home town, which they transplant here, according to Carruthers. Westerners are always natural and never succumb to the strain under which New Yorkers live.

—STEPHEN HANNAGAN.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 9.—J. McGarry, wife and son Maxwell, who left Friday to attend the pennant games in Washington, in a community in the Asheville Motor Club states the roads were all right by way of Hendersonville, Chimney Rock, Charlotte, Greensboro and Danville to Richmond and Washington.

The short detour at Detwiler's was in fair shape and they made Hendersonville in 37 minutes from that point and to Chimney Rock in an hour and 20 minutes. They arrived at Danville at 3:30 p.m., covering the distance from Asheville to Danville in ten hours and 35 minutes, or an average running time of around 26 miles an hour, which indicates unusually good time.

W. M. Ritter, secretary of the Winston-Salem Auto Club has just advised the Asheville Motor Club that the new route south from Washington offers a most excellent road, in good weather.

Main building of the New York police recreation camp burned, because cops failed to catch the fire in time.

Men's teeth grow more scarce. Chicago dentists in session find more women wearing false teeth.

Drink Water When Kidneys Hurt You

Take Glass of Salt If Your Back Aches or Bladder Troubles

Xoxo

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralytic and bogey. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them. Like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's冗ous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach aches, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water glands and you are obliged to urinate twice or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician or once or get from your pharmacist four or four ounces of Jad Salts:

take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the act of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a week.

Orioles and Saints Will Play Today

By The Associated Press.
ST. PAUL Minn., Oct. 9.—St. Paul renewed its dispute with the Baltimore Orioles here today to determine the minor league baseball championship.

Baltimore has gained a lead by winning four of the four games played.

Paul Flitter, a southpaw, or Cliff Markle, righthander, will pitch against the Orioles today. Letty Graves and Jack Ordern, a righthander, were ready for the Birds.

Sore, Bleeding Gums Stopped In 12 Hours

Creosene, A Pleasant Liquid That Accomplishes at Home All the Good Benefits of Treatment in Dental Chair Without the Pain and Expense.

Sores, bleeding gums indicate the beginning of pyorrhoea. If neglected the infection spreads from the gum tissue to the root sockets—the foundation on which your teeth depend. Then the teeth fall out or must be pulled. Through a new discovery Creosene, a pleasant penetrating liquid, medicated with gum healing and germ-destroying ingredients used by the dental profession carries the medication direct to the roots of the teeth, relieving pain, tightening loose teeth, healing pus pockets, destroying decayed teeth odors and killing the germ that leads to pyorrhoea. The medicines used in Creosene are not new, but are well known and used by the entire dental profession. The new method is the method of penetration which carries these gum-healing, germ-destroying medicines direct to the roots of the teeth and into every nook, corner and crevice in between the teeth, thereby accomplishing at home, in a pleasant way, all the good benefits of a treatment in the dental chair, without the pain and expense.

The press agent of the Folies sent this to the sports editor of The Bee, with the notation that Evelyn Law (third from the right in the second row) was simply wild about football and as soon as the season started what did Miss Law do but don a suit and go out and scrimmage, yes, scrimmages with the collegians. Now isn't that too ridiculous for words? Imagine the nerve of the bird! If he thinks we can't see through his bald lies he's crazy and that's that, and if it wasn't for Evelyn's smile we wouldn't print the darn picture either.

1923 Stars Don't Shine This Year

DETROIT, Oct. 9.—Three of the greatest recruits in the 1923 American League campaign were Heinie Manush, Detroit; Bill Kammin, Chicago and Homer Summa, Cleveland. They were heralded far and wide as coming stars. They were termed the finds of the season. Much was expected of them.

But the year they have been anything but the brilliant Fielders and stout hitters of the 1923 chase. Manush, a .350 batter in his first year in fast company, is now hitting around .250. Counted upon by Manager Cobb to fill the position left vacant by the passing of Bobby Veach, the former Western League star has been a huge disappointment.

Kammin, the $100,000 boy from San Francisco, is in the same boat.

In 1923, hit over .300. He was up near the top in clutch doubles and his fielding was of a high order. He was considered the only one of the group of high-priced "beauties" to make good last year.

In 1923, he first entered business in 1916 in New York, managing the open-life at the Pennsylvania, with 2200 rooms, the largest hotel in the world.

Three years later he went to the Waldorf, famous to royalty of other shores.

"Ninety per cent of all the people are good people," he says, "but they are more temperamental than a few years ago."

Visitors from the west bring with them their trials to New York a portion of their home town, which they transplant here, according to Carruthers. Westerners are always natural and never succumb to the strain under which New Yorkers live.

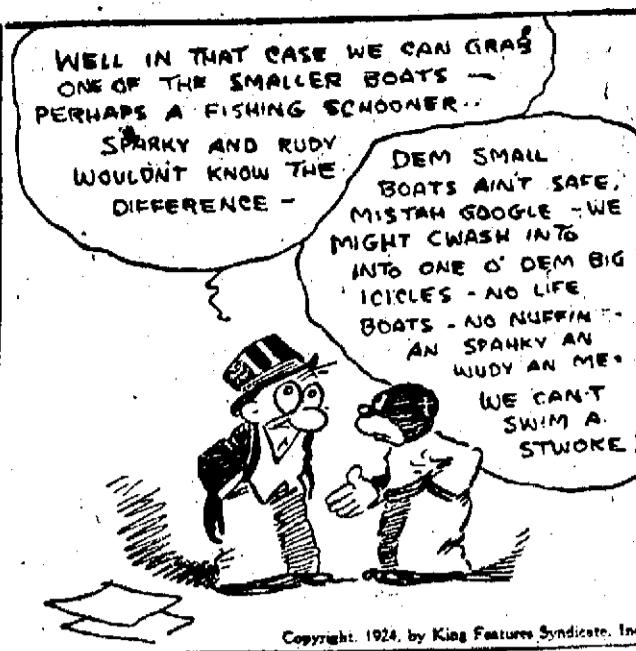

Carruthers is a large man, with gray hair, is 49 years old, has a pleasant smile, reassuring handclasp—and a mild voice.

ALL SPACE TAKEN FOR THE N. C. STATE FAIR

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 8.—With every foot of space in the large Floral Hall already contracted for and with 25 per cent. more livestock exhibits than ever before shown, already booked, Mrs. Edith Vanderbilt, president of the North Carolina State Fair, is looking forward to the most successful fair of her administration. The exhibits are coming in from as far west as Iowa and so far north as Massachusetts, it was said, while practically every Southern State will be represented. North Carolina is getting to be widely known. Mrs. Vanderbilt explains, and the State Fair is benefiting, she modestly adds.

Bookings for the various exhibits were a bit slow in getting under way. Mrs. Vanderbilt asserted, but once they started the management had its hands full in getting things lined up and the listing of applicants to certain places.

QUEER ROMANCE IS REVEALED BY DIVORCE COURT

Wife and Husband Give Each Freedom So They Might Wed Lovers

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The divorce granted her yesterday by Mr. Alfred Lawrence Hall-Quest, head of the extended department of the University of Pittsburgh, from Mrs. Shirley K. Hall-Quest, today revealed a strange romance wherein a deserted husband and an abandoned wife have sued for divorce that their erring mates may marry each refusing to name openly as co-respondent the spouse of the other.

Mrs. Hall-Quest and the man for whose love she left her husband a year ago in Cincinnati and defied the conventions to come to Chicago to live as man and wife, had disappeared today.

Friends professed to be without knowledge of the couple who had been living in Evanston as "Mr. and Mrs. William Hart" but expressed the opinion that they have gone into hiding until next week when the suit for divorce brought by the wife of the man with whom Mrs. Hall-Quest became infatuated, will be heard.

Until the fact became public that "the other man," whose identity Prof. Hall-Quest made every attempt to conceal in the divorce proceedings here, also was married, and the target of a divorce suit, it had been presumed the couple had run away to be married. The suit for divorce filed in Cincinnati is by Mrs. Rosamona Hart against Frederick William Hart, an accountant. The Hart formerly lived in the same apartment house as his wife in Cincinnati. Mr. Hart said his husband admitted that he was infatuated with another woman whose name will be furnished the court upon request.

In the record of Dr. Hall-Quest's action for divorce yesterday he said that his wife became infatuated with a man while the Hall-Quests lived in Cincinnati and that Mrs. Hall-Quest and the man came to Chicago a year ago and had been living here as man and wife since that time.

Several letters sent to him from his wife in which the name of the respondent was deleted were introduced into the record. Mrs. Hall-Quest in these letters announced her readiness to defy the conventions and renounce everything for the man she loved and explained that discussion of a reconciliation was useless.

MORNING COTTON LETTER

(Thomson & McKinnon)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Cables weak. The bell had mostly fair weather and the forecast is generally fair. The report although 196,000 less than last forecast was disappointing to many who expected a dramatic decline in cotton. Speculative selling developed on the decline but the trade was a large buyer. The National Wholesale Drug Association reports improvement in business. Total reports since August 1st have been larger than last year.

The future tendency of prices would seem to depend largely on the frost date. We do not believe the government figures bearish enough to cause a serious or a permanent decline.

DAVIS ENDS HIS CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK

Prepares For Two-Week Tour of Middle West

ON BOARD DAVIS TRAIN EN ROUTE NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—His campaign drive in upper and western New York ended John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president, swinging east today headed for New York City to prepare for a two-week tour of the midwest.

Mr. Davis boarded his train immediately after his speech in Buffalo last night. He told friends who escorted him from the auditorium to the railway station that while the New York trip had been strenuous, he felt more than compensated.

On arrival in New York City, the candidate arranged to go direct to his home in Loonet Valley to register so he could vote in November for the state and national democratic tickets. His newly acquired status in New York will allow him to vote in this state for the first time on October 25.

On the western tour, scheduled to begin Friday evening, Mr. Davis will first go to Richmond and Indianapolis, Indiana, arriving Saturday. A stop will be made later visits to Springfield and East St. Louis, Illinois; St. Louis, Mo.; Nashville, Tenn.; Louisville, Ky.; Evansville, Indiana; Cincinnati and to New York City by October 25.

At least part of the nine intervening days between the return to New York and November 4 will be given over to a new drive in New England territory.

Lieut. Governor George R. Lunn, who has accompanied the presidential candidate on the three day tour which ends today, declared the results had been "a revelation to me."

"Three weeks ago," the Lieut. governor said, "there was little talk of Davis in the districts he has visited. There can be no doubt but that the sentiment has changed. Mr. Davis has made many personal friends and thousands of votes. All evidences now point to a victory for Davis and Smith."

Answer filed by Standard Oil of Indiana in ouster proceedings in Missouri makes general denial of allegations.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—With perhaps one exception refiners report a disappointing demand and as a consequence the spot market finds refiners indifferent offers of quite a quantity at 4% for nearby shipment failing to interest buyers. A fresh estimate increases the probable output of the Czechoslovakia 50,000 tons over the Lich testimate. Rallies in the futures, we believe, are moderate and temporary.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—William Bell, 35-year-old negro, was beaten to death in the Jewish quarter here last night by two hundred men and boys attracted by the screams of two young white women, who said that Bell had accosted them.

Police forces seized twenty persons in dispersing the crowd and held Epstein, sacramental wine dealer, whom they accused of having set the bell with a baseball bat. Epstein denied the accusation, asserting that it was he who had summoned the police. Several hundred police patrolled the streets and it is said the recurrence of the trouble was not probable although feelings run high over the incident among foreigners. Epstein was accused by George Bell, brother of the victim, and another negro of an unprovoked assault, although Miss Betty Greenblatt, 18-year-old stenographer, told the police that Bell had spoken to her before the attack and that she had seized her arm and attempted to pull her across the street. Her statement was corroborated by her companion, Miss Bertha Deutsch, 21.

In July, 1923, clashes between negroes and white persons, growing out of the slaying of a negro lad at a Chicago bathing beach cost upwards of a score of lives.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—William Bell, 32, negro, was beaten to death by a crowd of men and boys on the west side here during afternoon. He had been charged with assault on a young girl.

The screams of the girl as she was seized by the negro attracted the attention of a number of men near the scene. The negro fled but was pursued and overtaken by the crowd, which beat him to death with a baseball bat.

There will be a joint meeting of the bishops with the national council of the church to discuss financial and other affairs for the coming three years.

With ninety bishops from all parts of the country in attendance, the house yesterday voted 43 to 42 against a proposal to elect a new missionary bishop of Mexico at this time.

Quoting a report of General Peng Chen-Hsin, the communists says the enemy began the attack at two o'clock in the morning at the barrier gate of Chumen, north of Shanhailwan, with a view of diverting attention from the main assault launched against the latter city.

The government forces met both attacks with artillery and machine gun fire and bombs, while a gunboat shelled the enemy positions.

After four hours fighting the report says, "the enemy, unable to withstand, had to do."

As soon as the rebels were immediately made to disarm them. The president instructed that $20,000 be distributed as rewards among the victors."
